Tim Bueschen joins C&L Aerospace as Regional Sales Manager

(Bangor, Maine, USA) C&L Aerospace continues its commitment to global coverage and support with the recent hire of Tim Bueschen, who joins C&L's Bangor, Maine, office to cover the Southern US, Caribbean Central and South American regions.

Bueschen has 22-years of experience in the spares industry. Most recently, he was Regional Sales Manager for Bombardier Aerospace for Europe, Middle East and Africa. For 18 years before that, he worked for a leading distributor and marketer of aftermarket automotive equipment and accessories.

"I'm excited to bring my OEM experience to such a strong and growing company like C&L" Bueschen said. "I have a strong desire to provide world-class service to my customers so they can focus on flying their passengers safely and efficiently."

Bueschen's success in sales is bolstered by his experience with logistics, warehousing, distribution, training and leadership. "We know that Tim's experience will be a great asset for our customers," said Martin Cooper, C&L Senior VP of Sales. "And we look forward to extending our reach in the South American and Caribbean regions."

C&L Aerospace, a division of C&L Aviation Group, has been in the aviation spare parts business since 1994 and has built its successful model from the knowledge that a "one size fits all" approach does not suit most operators. The addition of Bueschen further extends C&L's ability to support customers with their unique needs and individual requirements from anywhere in the world.
